Optivor recognized #6 on the BBJ’s “Women-Owned Businesses”

Annapolis Junction, MD August 7, 2018—Optivor Technologies, LLC, has made the Baltimore Business Journal list again. In a special recognition that appeared in a recent issue of The Baltimore Business Journal, Optivor was selected for the following honor:

Ranked #6 on the Baltimore Business Journal’s Women-Owned Businesses list that published in this week’s issue of the Baltimore Business Journal. (This list is ranked by 2017 revenue)

Dearest Chandler, Optivor’s Managing Director commented: "We are proud to be recognized, and we are thankful to our customers, team members and stakeholders. Since 2001, Optivor has focused on quality, delivering more than 10,000 IT solutions. The combined resources of Optivor and ACS is compelling for our clients. Optivor operates in federal and commercial markets, while ACS supports commercial markets. Our customers represent mid-to-large organizations and global brands."

In June, 2017, Optivor finalized the acquisition of Advanced Communications Solutions (“ACS”). Headquartered in Florida, ACS is among the nation’s top NEC resellers. Together, Optivor and ACS represent one of the largest independently-owned telecommunications resellers in the United States.

Chandler added, “We are supporting larger organizations globally, and have made investments in our ability to compete and deliver. Our capabilities and geographic coverage have grown significantly. We measure ourselves against our potential, not our competition. Being listed #6 validates this strategy.”
