Opti-Cloud 2.0 goes GA

Annapolis Junction, MD December 20, 2018—Optivor announces the general availability of Opti-Cloud 2.0.

The latest version includes more flexibility and functions.

Stuart Chandler, Optivor’s President & CEO commented: “This is the result of significant development within our collaborative partnerships. Whether you’re a smaller business, need enterprise scale, or you’re somewhere in the middle, Opti-Cloud delivers cloud communications your way. Now, you can scale your operations and go to market faster with always-on resources available to meet your needs. This product is now available to commercial and Federal customers.”

Since 2001, Optivor has delivered more than 10,000 IT solutions. Optivor operates in Federal and commercial markets. Our customers represent mid-to-large organizations and global brands.

Mikelle Rupard, Optivor’s ITES-3S Deputy Program Manager added, “Optivor is uniquely positioned with Opti-Cloud, and has multiple Federal contracting vehicles for Federal customers to purchase from, including the Army’s recent nine-year, $12.1 billion Information Technology Enterprise Solutions—3 Services (ITES-3S) indefinite-delivery, indefinite-quantity contract. This vehicle is available to all Federal agencies. Now, any Federal customer can purchase a cloud solution, and Optivor has the solution and contracting vehicle all in one shop.”
